WEEKLY PROGRESS TREND (All Initiatives)

WEEKLY EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

We were able to obtain draft versions of the governance and strategic planning workshops, as well as a workshop for coaches, tailored specifically for Suriname. Thanks to Tony Mesa's support, we coordinated with a badminton coach from the Dominican Republic; the idea was to organize a training camp in the Dominican Republic to help Rivano Bisphan arrive at CACSO better prepared. We have also been able to speak with the coach of another athlete with an Olympic scholarship, Tachana Dalger—track cycling. The coach is James Hey, a British national with a long career as a coach. Finally, Mike Nahar was able to attend the training session of D'Angelo Huisden, an Olympic-scholarship track and field athlete residing in Suriname who, due to weather conditions, had been unable to train at
