KEY ACTIVITIES THIS WEEK

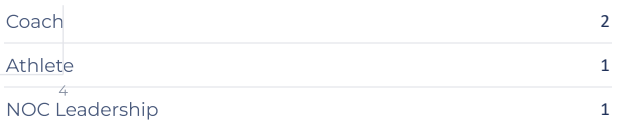

DATE	ACTIVITY	STATUS
Jun 8	This meeting is a coordination session with my colleague Mike Nahar, a local methodologist; we review scheduled tasks and progress. We coordinate meetings with athletes, coaches, and federations, as well as the schedule for monitoring athletes during training in Suriname.	Completed
Jun 8	All week long, I kept working on the document for the governance and strategic planning workshop.	In Progress
Jun 10	Virtual meeting with Mike Nahar and James Hey, coach of Tachana Dalger, an athlete with an Olympic scholarship. He updated us on the athlete's training progress and her current priority needs. Tachana is a track cyclist who moved to Trinidad and Tobago because there is no velodrome in Suriname. She needs support to purchase training equipment, to live closer to the velodrome (she currently lives very far away), and to cover the cost of her ticket and accommodation for the World Championships in Shanghai in October 2026.    Success indicator — Talent identification & development in Suriname

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

We were able to obtain draft versions of the governance and strategic planning workshops, as well as a workshop for coaches, tailored specifically for Suriname. Thanks to Tony Mesa's support, we coordinated with a badminton coach from the Dominican Republic; the idea was to organize a training camp in the Dominican Republic to help Rivano Bisphan arrive at CACSO better prepared. We have also been able to speak with the coach of another athlete with an Olympic scholarship, Tachana Dalger—track cycling. The coach is James Hey, a British national with a long career as a coach. Finally, Mike Nahar was able to attend the training session of D'Angelo Huisden, an Olympic-scholarship track and field athlete residing in Suriname who, due to weather conditions, had been unable to train at his usual track. We continue working for the sporting glory of Suriname.

PANAM SPORTS SUPPORT NEEDED

We are requesting support from Panam Sports to purchase training equipment and tickets for the World Championships in Shanghai in October 2026, as part of the preparation for Olympic scholarship athlete Tachana Dalger. Please provide information on the process for applying for this support.

CHALLENGES

High priority · Addressed · COORDINATION

We needed support from SUR so that the ticket purchase would make it possible to hold the CACSO training camp

Action — Purchase a plane ticket with dates that work for the camp
