CHALLENGES

High priority · In Progress · COORDINATION

Continued direct communication with National Federations is needed to better understand their current activities, athletes, training programmes and long-term development objectives.

Action — Conduct individual meetings with National Federations, gather relevant technical information and establish a regular coordination process to support long-term sport planning.

High priority · In Progress · TECHNICAL

National Federations have different training conditions, athlete development pathways and levels of international competition experience. Long-term planning requires a clearer understanding of these differences and each federation's future objectives.

Action — Continue technical dialogue with federations and use international competition calendars to support realistic preparation pathways and progressive sport development.

High priority · In Progress · TECHNICAL

The final preparation period for Dakar 2026 requires continued coordination of athlete recovery, training continuity and technical support. The alternative international preparation proposal was reviewed but not approved.

Action — Maintain communication with coaches and medical support providers, follow up on athlete recovery and adjust preparation activities according to each athlete's current condition.

Medium priority · Pending Follow-up · COMMUNICATION

A significant number of coaches registered in the CC1 programme have not yet completed their Module 1 assessment, affecting their progress toward certification.

Action — Continue direct communication with participants, confirm their intention to remain in the programme and coordinate assessment status updates with Panam Sports Academy.

NEXT WEEK FOCUS

Begin individual meetings with National Federations, gather information on athletes, training and future objectives, continue development of the Belize Sports Prioritization Model, and maintain Dakar 2026 athlete preparation and CC1 follow-up.
